Kansas Potatoes Ltd. is a family-owned business managed and operated by the Roenbaugh family. The business was founded in 2000 and is the first commercial potato operation in Edwards County Kansas. The farm's production of red potatoes has grown from 12 acres of potatoes in 2000 to 200 acres in 2013. In addition to employing local residents, Kansas Potatoes supports community organizations like 4-H through contributions of bagged and locally labeled potatoes for organization fundraisers. The Roenbaugh family has farmed in rural Edwards County, Kansas, since the 1800s and is now in its fifth generation.
